1. Short title. - This Act may be called The Citizenship Act , 1955.

Object & Reasons ▼

Statement of Objects and Reasons. - Articles 5 to 9 of the Constitution determine who are Indian citizens at the commencement of the Constitution and article 10 provides for their continuance as such citizens subject to the provisions of any law that may be made by Parliament. The Constitution does not, however, make any provision with respect to the acquisition of citizenship after its commencement or the termination of citizenship or other matters relating to citizenship. Under article 11, the Constitution expressly saves the power of Parliament to make a law to provide for such matters. It is obviously necessary to make such a law to supplement the provisions of the Constitution and this Bill seeks to achieve this object.

This Bill provides for the acquisition of citizenship, after the commencement of the Constitution, by birth, descent, registration, naturalisation and incorporation of territory. It also makes necessary provisions for the termination and deprivation of citizenship under certain circumstances. The Bill also seeks to formally recognize Commonwealth citizenship and permit the Central Government to extend on a reciprocal basis such rights of an Indian citizen as may be agreed upon to the citizens of other Commonwealth countries and the Republic of Ireland.

Amendment Act 65 of 1985-Statement of Objects and Reasons.

- The core of the Memorandum of Settlement (Assam Accord) relates to the foreigners' issue, since the agitation launched by the A.A.S.U. arose out of their apprehensions regarding the continuing influx of foreign nationals into Assam and the fear about adverse effects upon the political, social cultural and economic life of the State.

(2) Assam Accord being a political settlement, legislation is required to give effect to the relevant clauses of the Assam Accord relating to the foreigners' issue.

(3) It is intended that all persons of Indian origin who came to Assam before the 1st January, 1966 (including such of those whose names were included in the electoral rolls used for the purpose of General Election to the House of the People held in 1967) and who have been ordinarily resident in Assam ever since shall be deemed to be citizens of India as from the 1st day of January, 1966. Further, every person of Indian origin who came on or after the 1st January, 1966 but before the 25th March, 1971 from territories presently included in Bangladesh and who has been ordinarily resident in Assam ever since and who has been detected in accordance with the provisions of the Foreigners Act, 1946 and the Foreigners (Tribunals) Order, 1964, shall, upon registration, be deemed to be a citizen for all purposes as from the date of expiry of a period of ten years from the date of detection as a foreigner. It is also intended that in the intervening period of 10 years, these persons should not suffer from any other disability vis-a-vis citizens, excepting the right to vote and that proper record shall be maintained of such persons. To inspire confidence, judicial element should be associated to determine eligibility in each and every case under this category.

Amendment Act 6 of 2004-Statement of Objects and Reasons. -

The Citizenship Act, 1955 which provides for the acquisition of citizenship, after the commencement of the Constitution by birth, descent, registration, naturalisation and incorporation of territory under certain circumstances, and also provides for the termination and deprivation of citizenship, was among those 109 Central Acts identified for a review by the Commission on Review of Administrative Laws constituted by the Central Government under the Chairmanship of Shri P.C. Jain in 1998. Subsequently, the High Level Committee on Indian Diaspora constituted by the Central Government, inter alia, recommended the amendment of this Act to provide for the grant of dual citizenship to persons of Indian origin belonging to certain specified countries. The Central Government has accordingly decided to make provisions for the grant of dual citizenship and has taken the opportunity of introducing a scheme for the compulsory registration of every citizen of India, and for this purpose to issue national identity cards.

2. The above objects are proposed to be achieved, inter alia, by amending provisions of the Citizenship Act so as to-

- (i) make acquisition of Indian citizenship by registration and naturalisation more stringent;
- (ii) prevent illegal migrants from becoming eligible for Indian citizenship;
- (iii) simplify the procedure to facilitate the re-acquisition of Indian citizenship by persons of full age who are children of Indian citizens, and former citizens of independent India;
- (iv) provide for the grant of overseas citizenship of India to persons of Indian origin belonging to specified countries, and Indian citizens who choose to acquire the citizenship of any of these countries at a later date;
- (v) provide for the compulsory registration and issue of a national identity card to all citizens of India;
- (vi) enhance the penalty for violation of its provisions, as well as the rules framed under it; and

(vii) to omit all provisions recognizing, or relating to the Commonwealth citizenship from the Act.

Amendment Act 32 of 2005-Statement of Objects and Reasons.

- The Citizenship Act, 1955 provides for the acquisition of citizenship, at the commencement of the Constitution by birth, descent, registration, naturalization and incorporation of territory under certain circumstances, and also provides for the termination and deprivation of citizenship: High Powered Committee on Indian Diaspora, constituted by the Central Government, inter alia, recommended the amendment of the said Act to provide for grant of dual citizenship to persons of Indian origin belonging to certain specified countries. The Central Government has, accordingly, notified the Citizenship (Amendment) Act, 2003 (6 of 2004) making provision for acquisition of Overseas Citizenship of India (OCI) by the Persons of Indian Origin (PIOs) of 16 specified countries other than Pakistan and Bangladesh. The Prime Minister in the Pravasi Bhartiya Divas, 2005 made a statement on OCI scheme that the Government has decided to grant OCI to all overseas Indians who migrated from India after 26th January, 1950 as long as their home countries allow dual citizenship under their local laws. In order to implement the Government's decision, an Ordinance called the Citizenship (Amendment) Ordinance, 2005 was promulgated on 28th June, 2005 to extend the scope of OCI or PIOs of all countries except Pakistan and Bangladesh as long as their countries allow dual citizenship. The said Ordinance is proposed to be replaced by a Bill by amending the provisions of the Citizenship Act, 1955 so as to-

- (i) expand the scope of grant of Overseas Citizenship of India to Persons of Indian Origin of all countries except Pakistan and Bangladesh; and
- (ii) reduce the period of residence in India from two years to one year for the persons registered as Overseas Citizens of India to acquire Indian citizenship.

2. The Bill seeks to replace the aforesaid Ordinance.

Amendment Act 65 of 1957-Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Section 2 (1)(c) of the citizenship Act, 1955, empowers the Central Government to declare, by notification in the Official Gazettee, the citizenship or nationality law in relation to any country specified in the First Schedule at the request of the Government of that country. Where such a declaration is made, persons of full age and capacity who are the citizens of that particular country may, subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be prescribed in this behalf, be registered as citizens as may be prescribed in this behalf, be registered as citizens of India under the provisions of section 5(1)(e) of the Citizenship Act. Since the enactment of the Citizenship Act in 1955, Ghana, the Federation of Malaya and Singapore have become Commonwealth countries. In order to enable the Government of India to notify, on a reciprocal basis, the citizenship or nationality law of these countries as and when it become necessary, it is proposed to amend the Act to include these countries also in the First Schedule.

Amendment Act 51 of 1986-Statement of Objects and Reasons.

A large number of persons of Indian origin have entered the territory of India from Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and some Africa countries and they are residing in India. Government has taken a serious view of the entry of persons clandestinely into India and with a view to making the provisions of the Citizenship Act relating to the grant of Indian citizenship more stringent it is proposed inter alia to make the following changes in the Citizenship Act, 1955, namely:-

(i) under the existing provisions every person born in India on or after the 26th day of January, 1950. shall be a citizen of India by birth. With a view to preventing automatic acquisition of citizenship of India by birth, it is proposed to amend the Act to provide that every person born in India after the commencement of the amendine Act will become a citizen of India by birth only if at the time of his birth either of his parents is a citizen of India;

(ii) under the Act, certain categories of persons may apply for citizenship by registration. One such category is of those persons of Indian origin who are ordinarily residents in India and have been so residents for six months immediately before making an application for registration. Another category is of women who are, or have been, married to citizens of India. These provisions are proposed to be made more stringent by providing that a person would be eligible for citizenship by registration only if he is ordinarily resident in India and have been so resident for five years immediately before making an application for registration. It is also proposed to change the word "women" by "person" in the latter category so that the eligibility of citizenship through marriage to citizens of India now admissible to women only is extended to men also.

(iii) under the Act, a person who is not a citizen of a Commonwealth country referred to in the First Schedule to the Act may apply for the grant of a certificate of naturalization if he has resided in India for the period of at least five years. It is proposed to increase this period to ten years.

2. The Bill seeks to achieve the aforesaid objects. Gazette of Ind., 4-11-1986, Pt. II, Section 2. Ext., P. 3 (No. 43).

Amendment Act 39 of 1992-Statement of Objects and Reasons. India is a signatory to the Convention on Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Women adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations on 18th December, 1979. Article 9(2) of the Convention requires that the "States Parties shall grant women equal rights with men with respect to the nationality of their children". Sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Citizenship Act, 1955 provides that a person born outside India on or after 26th January, 1950 shall be a citizen of India by descent only if his father is an Indian citizen at the time of his birth. With a view to eliminate discrimination against women in respect of nationality of their children and in order to bring the provisions of the Citizenship Act, 1955 in conformity with article 9(2) of the aforesaid Convention, it is proposed to amend the said Act so as to provide that every person born outside India on or after the coming into force of the provisions of the Bill shall become a citizen of India by descent if either of his parents is a citizen of India.
